

Camp TAG is a Food Allergy Friendly Day Camp

Camp TAG provides a safe place for children with food allergies, eosinophilic disorders, FPIES, Celiac disease, atopic dermatitis (eczema), mast cell disorders, and asthma and their non-allergic siblings to have fun – with no worries about allergic reactions – and meet other children who share similar experiences. Camp TAG provides peer-to-peer networks, support, gaining independence and confidence, and more - everyone has the opportunity to be with others who live it and get it. It is a bonding and empowering week for all campers and counselors, including parents/caregivers.

"We are so grateful for Camp TAG. It overwhelms my heart for our daughter to be able to participate in a summer camp program, to run around and play games and hang out with other kids who understand her concerns, and to have a week of freedom from anxiety about food allergies. What Eleanor, the FAACT team, and teen counselors do for these kids and for their families is just so amazing—the group dinner, the pajama party movie night for the kids, the social for the parents, the education component for the caregivers - Camp TAG is more than a summer camp and more than just a week! It's a community of the best kind: supportive, caring, and such an incredible gift."
