

I AM UNIQUE

No two people are the same. In this activity, we will think about what makes you different, unique, and special. Do you have brown eyes, red hair, food allergies, or freckles? Do you have a big family or a small family? Do you live in a cold climate or a warm climate? Learning about ourselves and others helps us get better at INCLUDING everyone and all the unique things about them. This makes the world a better place.
Now let's learn about you!

My name is...

I was named after or named by...

I identify as (you can list your pronouns, ethnicity, special abilities, or whatever you want)

What makes me special is...

I live in a state / country that...

I love to (list hobbies, where you travel, what you like to do with friends, or whatever you want)

If I were a superhero, what would I make better in the world?
